MITCHENER begs Leave to acquaint the Public, that he has carried every Accommodation for Bathing in the Sea to the higheſt Degree of Perfection. He has lately opened a Warm Salt Water Bath for the Uſe of thoſe to whom it might be inconvenient to venture into a Cold one; it may be brought, in a few Minutes, to any Degree of Heat which may be required, according to the Regulation of Farenheit's Thermometer, which has been provided for that Purpoſe: The ſame Bath may occaſionally be made uſe of as a Cold one, whenever the Sea may be ſo rough, as to render Bathing in the Machines unpleaſant. Many new Houſes have been lately built, and are daily building; great Improvements are making in others, that the Lodgings may be as convenient as poſſible for the Reception of Company. He never did, nor ever will ſpare any Expence to procure the beſt Proviſions, Wines, Tea, &c. which can by any Means be had. The Number of Subſcribers to his Aſſembly-Room amounted in the laſt Year to 515, which has greatly exceeded that of any former Seaſon: Having received ſo great Encouragement from the Nobility and Gentry, he thinks it his Duty to acknowledge it with all Gratitude; and to aſſure them at the ſame Time, that nothing in his Power ſhall ever be wanting which may merit their future Favours.
